

Our Family Tree

Morning Post

morningpost.com.au/family-tree/template

Three generations on one page: the grandparents at the top, their children across the middle, and up to four grandchildren under each. The one to fill in with the grandkids and stick on the fridge.

The image shows a blank family tree template. At the top, there are two boxes for the grandparents: "GRANDFATHER" and "GRANDMOTHER". Each box has fields for "Name" and "Born". A central "&" symbol is placed between them. Below the grandparents, a horizontal line indicates the marriage date, labeled "Married on · at". This line connects to a vertical line that branches into four boxes for the children, labeled "CHILD 1", "CHILD 2", "CHILD 3", and "CHILD 4". Each child box has fields for "Name", "Born", and "Partner". Below each child box, a vertical line branches into four boxes for the grandchildren, each labeled "GRANDCHILD". Each grandchild box has fields for "Name" and "Born".
